Now let's go from good to great. That's good leadership and it shows. But if we're aiming to build a team that runs without you, hits its numbers, and owns accountability?

We're not quite there. Yet.

5 Leadership Practices - 84%

#	Question	Response (1 - 5)	Review
1	I am giving clear direction.	4	Clear direction—keep it crisp by refreshing the team's V/TO® headlines quarterly (Traction).
2	I am providing the necessary tools.	5	Providing support means removing obstacles - review the 'Manage Your Capacity' chapter in the Active Manager book.
3	I am letting go of the vine.	3	If you're still in the weeds, watch the 2-min video on letting go in the Resources section. https://LvL10.us/letgo
4	I am acting with the greater good in mind.	5	Good enterprise thinking—anchor decisions in Traction's Core Values and Right Person/Right Seat checks to keep bias out.
5	I am taking Clarity Breaks.	4	Great focus—keep your edge by scheduling Clarity Breaks® as recurring "thinking reps" (EOS® Toolbox).

5 Management Practices - 80%

#	Question	Response (1 - 5)	Review
6	I am keeping expectations clear.	3	If success is fuzzy, define measurable weekly numbers on a simple Traction Scorecard so “done” is objective.
7	I am communicating well.	4	Open communication—sharpen it with this micro-lesson on active listening. https://LvL10.us/listen
8	I have the right meeting pulse.	5	Strong cadence—use the Great Boss Toolkit Meeting Pulse checklist to keep facilitation tight and to-dos done.
9	I am having Quarterly Conversations.	4	Quarterly Conversations build trust - add 'Coaching' components from the Active Manager book to make them consistent, valuable, and aligned to EOS® tools.
10	I am rewarding and recognizing.	4	Timely, useful feedback—keep it direct-and-kind with this short video on tough conversations. https://LvL10.us/difficult
